

6516209716.txt

The XM traffic and weather channels, are very useful for those in the areas where it is available. the NAB should have to compete against this service and should not be able to seek "special protection" from competition from new players in the music delivery market. The NAB's tactics should not be allowed in a free society that we enjoy here in America. Satellite radio offers music that rarely are played on stations controlled by the NAB. Satellite radio offers many unique channels of music, all of which are commercial free, that I would have NEVER listened to before being exposed to it with XM. Satellite radio also offers much better quality in the area in which I live, where radio stations are more than 40 miles away and the signal strength is VERY weak, where satellite radio offers music channels which do not fade away in a couple of hours of driving. I pay for XM's services and what I listen to on the service I pay for should not be controlled by a special interest group. I spend my money because I do not want to listen to the sorry excuse for radio that the NAB's member stations are producing nowadays. XM offers services that I WANT and I am willing to pay for, and would like these services to continue without the interference of the NAB. I ask you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160. Thank you.